OMAHA Scores in First.

After Wichita had been blanked in the first inning Smith led off for the home club with a single to right, and on a passed ball took second, third on Brown's infield out, and came home on Forsythe's retirement from second to first. Krug ended the inning by grounding out.

Again in the second Omaha secured another tally on McChesney's walk and singles by Tannehill and Schliebner.

Aside from the Wiches' one score in the first, accomplished by a walk and Patterson's two-bagger, the rest of the batter's work was marked only by all-round clean work and not the sign of a falter by a single player.

Second a Walkaway.

Game two, which was played mostly in a drizzly rain, was a walkaway for the Rourkes. The Wiches never came close to scoring, while Omaha piled up a total of twelve runs in a netpour of safe-plays, including four two-baggers, four bases on balls, and a pair of errors.

Tom Blodgett had the game where he wanted it at all times, while the whole Wichita club plainly showed the ravages of being forced to engage in five double-headers in that many consecutive days.

Despite the rain a good crowd assembled for the entertainment and departed highly elated over the home club's double success. Two more games at Rourke park on labor day winds up the season in Omaha. Score, first game:
